

Acknowledgements

The Tobin Project would like to thank Stephen Van Evera for his leadership and intellectual contributions to the Tobin Project's national security initiative, which gave rise to this volume. We would also like to thank Brian Haggerty and Mitchell Weiss whose insights and thoughts were instrumental in developing the framework of "power through its prudent use." And we thank all the authors who contributed papers to this compendium and the conference that preceded it.

This publication would not have been possible without the efforts of many individuals at the Tobin Project. Sidharth Shah managed the overall production of the compendium, guiding its evolution from a collection of conference papers to a finished product. Stephanie Khurana and Melanie Wachtell provided helpful input and advice throughout the publication process.

Robert Art and Steven Miller provided valuable advice about transforming the conference papers into a publication. The meticulous work of Christopher Caines, our copyeditor, helped to refine and shape the essays. Kristen Argenio of Ideal Design laid out the text and devised the elegant design of this volume.

Finally, the Tobin Project is grateful to Carnegie Corporation of New York and our other donors for their generous support of our work.

Copyright © 2010 The Tobin Project, Inc. All rights reserved.

Chapter 5, “Without Conditions: The Case for Negotiating with the Enemy,” reprinted by permission of Foreign Affairs 88, no. 5 (September/October 2009).

Copyright © 2009 by the Council on Foreign Relations, Inc.
www.ForeignAffairs.com.

For information address

The Tobin Project, One Mifflin Place, Suite 240, Cambridge, MA 02138, USA.

Visit www.tobinproject.org.

This publication was made possible in part by a grant from Carnegie Corporation of New York. The statements made and views expressed are solely the responsibility of the authors.

Unless otherwise noted, the views expressed in this publication are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Tobin Project, its funders, or its staff.

Printed in the United States of America.

This book is set in Adobe Caslon Pro.

Text design by Kristen Argenio/Ideal Design Co.

Line and copy editor: Christopher Caines